

A Song Happens

A song happens when stuff stirs inside
to flood the heart and ebb the hiding.

Then a simple tune
or pulse, beats the harmony
that smiles or weeps

clean with salted air,
unspotted,
air sublime to
sweet what rots.

A song waves on
simplicity,
never changes,
always changing.